

Tufts CEE Seminar Series Presents

LINDA SPRAGUE MARTINEZ, PHD

Associate Professor & Department Chair

Macro Practice

Boston University School of Social Work

Topic: Adult Perspectives on Engaging Youth in Community Health Research and Action
Friday April 2, 2021 – 12:00pm – Virtual event

Linda Sprague Martinez, PhD, is an associate professor, department chair in the Macro Department and a research affiliate with the Center for Innovation in Social Work and Health at the Boston University School of Social Work.

Her research is focused on how assets can be recognized and leveraged by communities to improve living environments and health. Dr. Sprague Martinez has expertise in urban health; community, student and youth engaged research; photovoice; community assessment and mobilization; and qualitative research methods and analyses.